FOND FAREWELL: The popular Wimpy outlet has now closed after being managed by the same family for around 30 years

Restaurant has had its chips

AFTER 30 years in the same family, the iconic Wimpy restaurant in Haverhill has closed.

The well-loved burger restaurant on Queen Street shut its doors for the final time on Monday, May 15 after years of service.

A spokesman for Wimpy UK said: "The franchise for the Wimpy restaurant in Haverhill had been in the same family for around 30 years and they did a terrific job of looking after generations of our customers.

"Naturally, we were disappointed when they decided to sell the business but would like to wish them all the very best for the future.

"As the new owner of the property has other plans, regrettably, Wimpy Haverhill has had to close."

For anyone who didn't expect the closure there are still some branches close by.

The spokesman added: "We know that the Wimpy

RACHAEL
@rach\_mc94CN

brand is very popular locally and we're pleased to say that our Wimpy Sudbury branch, which is just over 30 minutes' drive away, has recently undergone a major revamp as part of a nationwide investment programme.

"This means families who have grown up loving our iconic Wimpy burgers still don't have too far to travel to enjoy our hospitality.

"As a proudly British brand, we are continually looking for new franchisees and already have plans to open seven new restaurants nationwide over the next 12 months.

"We hope that one day the Wimpy name may well return to Haverhill."

A new restaurant, Jenny's, has now opened at the same site.

The News has contacted the family that ran the Wimpy restaurant for comment.

Mum's shock as her daughter is delivered on hospital lawn

McMENEMY
Twitter: Rach_Mc94CN

A QUICK labour is what every mum longs for.

But for Jasmine Yates, the story of little Genevieve Arabella's birth will never be forgotten.

She was born into her mum's underwear, her head held by new dad Kevin, on the grass outside West Suffolk Hospital.

Jasmine 19, went into labour at 8.40am on Thursday last week.

Having already been through labour once before with older daughter Amara, Jasmine wasn't phased.

At 11am her midwives, happy that she was still hours from giving birth at only 2cm dilated, recommended a soothing bath to help with the pain.

Jasmine said: "As soon as I got in the bath I started pushing.

"Labour took an hour and a half. I was pushing all the way to the hospital in the car, my partner didn't know what to do," said the mum.

She added: "The baby just came out into my underwear, my partner had to grab her head to stop her falling. It was just so shocking."

Despite the mad dash to the hospital, Jasmine, who lives in York Road in Haverhill, said she never expected the delivery to be so Hollywoodesque.

"I honestly thought I could just get into the hospital ward and push her out, but she just didn't want to wait."

For first time dad Kevin Gardiner, the whole experience proved to be a shocker.

Jasmine said: "He was really shocked, just all of a sudden he had to hold her head so she didn't fall anywhere."

The dramatic scenes saw paramedics, nurses and doctors from the A&E department of West Suffolk Hospital rush to the grass outside the doors to tend to mum and baby.

"I was honestly in shock. I was happy she was OK, but I was so panicked and worried something was wrong," said Jasmine.

Everyone is as shocked by the birth as Jasmine and her family were. She said: "People were gobsmacked."

"The hospital were exactly the same, just in shock."

"One of the paramedics said he had seen it happen in a woman's bath at home but never out on their grass."

Dad Kevin said: "All my life I have wanted to be a father and now having Genevieve Arabella and Amara has made my life, complete along with Jasmine for giving them to me."

Hopefully Genevieve Arabella's entrance into the world will remain the most dramatic moment in her life for quite some time, but mum Jasmine isn't convinced.

"You can just tell she's going to be a little diva already," she said.

INQUEST

Cause of van driver's collision on A1307 'will remain unknown'

ANNA SAVVA

@AnnaSavvaCN

A VAN driver died in a head-on collision after veering into oncoming traffic for "reasons we will never know", an inquest heard.

Curtis Payne was reportedly running late for work when he was driving a Ford Transit along the A1307 on the morning of November 14 last year.

Travelling westbound near Abington to pick up his father in Chigwell, Essex, Mr Payne's van started to veer into oncoming traffic.

At Huntingdon's Lawrence Court assistant coroner for Cambridgeshire Simon Millwall said a number of drivers saw his van drift toward the middle white line, before striking a black estate Hyundai carrying two passengers in the opposite direction, then bouncing off the side of a Volvo HGV.

Mr Payne, of Chigwell, suffered multiple injuries as a result and was confirmed dead by a paramedic at the scene at 8.10am.

Police investigations revealed Mr Payne missed a phone call and text

message at 7.51am and though his phone was found damaged in the front of the van "there was no evidence he was using his phone at the time of the collision".

Dashcam footage from another vehicle showed the drivers of the other vehicles were wholly within their correct lanes, and there was also no evidence of speeding.

Toxicology reports revealed the 23-year-old had consumed cocaine and alcohol in the 24 hours leading up to his death, but it was not suggestive of excessive use.

Though cocaine can affect driving ability, the pathologist found that it was not possible to say his driving was impaired as a consequence.

"The evidence is clear," Mr Millwall told members of Mr Payne's family at the inquest.

"Curtis was driving a white panelled Transit van, which, for reasons we will never know, left its lane and veered onto oncoming traffic, striking a black Hyundai and Volvo lorry.

"Findings regarding why his van left the lane would just be conjecture."

He recorded an open verdict into his death.

A JustGiving page set up in memory of Mr Curtis - who was known as Chippy - by his friend Jack Saunders has so far raised more than £16,000.

"Curtis Payne was the type of person that made a forever lasting positive impact on everyone who was lucky enough to meet him, be it for five minutes or a lifetime," he wrote. "There is not a memory that anyone shares with Curtis that isn't filled with big smiles, great times and laughter."

"He was a blessing to this world and adored by his loving family, they share a bond so special that words can not describe."

"John, Tina and Cara [his father, mother and sister] have lost a best friend as well as a beautiful son and brother. All our love and thoughts go to them at this time."

"Curtis was by far one of the most kind-hearted guys about. He cared for everyone he met, always made time for people and made them feel good about themselves."

"His smile alone was enough to light the most darkest of rooms. He was a leader in life, a truly gifted footballer and a real legend that has been taken from so many of our lives way too early."

"Chippy will be dearly missed by his family and many friends but will forever be in our hearts and thoughts."

ROADS

Number of serious collisions on 'the road of death' is revealed

MORE THAN 50 serious and fatal crashes have happened on the notoriously dangerous A1307 since 2011.

The figures show 52 serious or fatal accidents on the 'road of death' between the A1307 from the junction with the A603 right down to the boundary with Suffolk at Haverhill.

Between 2011 and 2016 there were three fatal accidents recorded on that stretch of road; in 2011, 2014 and in 2016.

Last Thursday, an inquest was held into the death of 23-year-old Curtis Payne, who died when his transit van drifted across the road into traffic in November 2016.

There was also a fatal collision in January which claimed the lives of elderly couple Reginald and Maria Towers.

There were 49 accidents categorised as serious between 2011 and 2016.

There were 10 in 2011; nine in 2012; eight in 2013; 11 in 2014; five in 2015 and six in 2016.

There have long been campaigns to make improvements to the notoriously dangerous road.

In October 2015, the Haverhill Chamber of Commerce launched a campaign to dual the road. Previously

MC MENEMY
@rach_mc94CN

Paul Donno, chairman of the Chamber of Commerce, had claimed the road was "unfit for purpose".

Cambridgeshire police would not comment on the safety of the A1307 but offered advice to drivers about how to best manage conditions on the road.

A spokesperson said: "Cambridgeshire's commitment to making our roads a safer place is part of ongoing work to reduce casualties on the county's roads and includes enforcement and education.

"By taking simple safety precautions when driving and travelling we can significantly reduce the number of serious and fatal collisions each year.

"Remaining alert and driving to the conditions of the roads plays an important part in reducing the number of collisions on the county's roads.

"Driving within the limits of your ability, vehicles and adhering to the conditions of the roads reduces the risks of becoming involved in a collision."

HARD WORK: Corrie McKeague's dad Martin has visited the landfill site to see the police search

Praise for police from dad of missing Corrie

ANNA SAVVA
@AnnaSavvaCN

THE father of Corrie McKeague says police are moving "heaven and earth" in the search for his son.

Martin McKeague praised the police teams from Norfolk and Suffolk in their search – especially during the recent "scorching heat" – for the missing RAF airman.

Officers have raked through 4,000 tonnes of rubbish in the Milton landfill tip over the past 12 weeks in what Martin describes as "an horrific environment".

He has not given up hope they can find his son's body, saying there is "hard evidence" to suggest Corrie would be found at the site, where specially trained officers have been since March 6.

He wrote on Facebook: "The police are digging and raking through what's been called a 'cell' or large area."

"That cell area has been identified through numerous conversations and extensive information gathering efforts with the site's owners and operators, and it is the area of highest likelihood where we will find Corrie in the landfill site."

"At present the police have searched approximately half of that cell's total area, and that search has now been extended into beyond that primary search area."

The 23-year-old airman vanished following a night out with friends in Bury St Edmunds last September.

It later emerged his phone had been tracked moving 12 miles north west to Barton Mills.

Police began searching the landfill site, believing he may have ended up in a large dumpster, which was taken to the site in a bin lorry.

Detectives fear Corrie could have been crushed in the vehicle.

Martin said he delayed posting an update on the investigation following the Manchester terror attack, and praised the dedication of officers.

He added: "These volunteers from the Norfolk and Suffolk police forces have literally moved heaven and earth for our family – 4,050 tonnes of it to be exact."

"It is our strong opinion – and one that's shared by the entire McKeague family in Scotland – that thanking these unbelievably dedicated people face-to-face for what they're doing in what is an horrific environment (and this week in particular) scorching heat, is the very least we can do."

Martin, who temporarily lives near the landfill site in a camper van, remains convinced officers will find his son there. He added: "The reason the police are searching the landfill site now is because there is hard evidence to suggest that they will find my son there."

HEALTH

Patients invited in to discuss changes at GPs' practice

A STRUGGLING Haverhill's GP surgery which is being overhauled due to staff shortages is opening its doors to patients to talk through the imminent changes.

Christmas Maltings and Clements GP practice is being taken over by the Suffolk GP Federation in June.

The practice has failed to attract new doctors and nurses resulting in above average waiting times for patients.

Dr Fiona Andrews, senior partner, said: "We can assure everybody that the practice will continue to operate with our patients' best interests in mind. However, the way we do certain things will have to change."

"The first come, first served appointment system that we currently operate will be replaced. Instead, patients will have to phone the practice in advance and they will be allocated an appropriate appointment either on the same day or later in the week – depending on why they are calling."

"In addition, we will also be taking a stronger stance against unacceptable patient behaviour. We expect all our patients to treat staff with respect. Anyone deemed to be acting inappropriately will be dealt with according to our governing policies and procedures."

Patients have been invited on Tuesday to the Clements surgery on Greenfields Way to hear more about the changes.

As part of the changes a Christmas Maltings and Clements Practice Board will be set up that will be responsible for the future development of the surgery and include both staff and patient representatives.

Suffolk GP Federation is a not-for-profit organisation of 59 independent GP practices covering 580,000 patients.

COURT

Attacker fails to get jail term overturned at appeal hearing

RACHAEL McMENEMY
@rach_mc94CN

A HAVERHILL thug jailed after a man was violently attacked with a tyre lever has failed in an appeal court bid for freedom.

Jimmy George William Murray, 23, of High Street, was jailed for five years at Ipswich Crown Court on May 23 last year.

Murray was convicted of aggravated burglary, Mr Justice Green told London's Appeal Court last week.

Emma Florian was walking home with her son, Ayden Devine, on May 8, 2015, when a car drove past and stopped in front of them.

Someone leaned out of the vehicle and shouted verbal abuse at them.

They continued home to Wrating Road and soon after heard loud banging on the door.

Four men burst in, two of whom assaulted Mr Devine. One was armed with a tyre lever, which was used to hit the victim on the head.

The prosecution case was that Murray was one of the two men who assaulted the victim.

SCENE OF ATTACK: The victim was assaulted in his Wrating Road home

Murray denied he was even there but the jury did not believe him.

At the appeal, his lawyers argued his conviction was 'unsafe' and should be overturned.

They claimed the trial judge should have thrown out the case because there was not enough evidence for the jury to convict him.

But Mr Justice Green said: "We are quite clear that there is no merit in this application."

The judge, sitting with Lord Justice Simon and Judge Simon Bourne-Arton QC, rejected the appeal.

COUNCIL

Union to be discussed next month

THE next step towards the creation of a single West Suffolk council has been agreed at a special joint meeting of Forest Heath District Council and St Edmundsbury Borough Council.

The decision at the special cabinet meeting means the proposal will now be formally discussed by all councillors in June. Plans for the merger were announced on May 9 by Forest Heath and St Edmundsbury council leaders James Waters and John Griffiths.

Both councils already share services which has resulted in savings of £4million a year.

St Edmundsbury Borough Council leader, Cllr Griffiths, said: "I am pleased our cabinets have had the opportunity to sit down together and start the process of formally looking at the benefits of a single council.

"We have already shown that sharing services across both councils not only saves millions of pounds but brings real benefits to the communities we serve. That has given us the firm financial footing and now a golden opportunity to look at how to even better meet future challenges, drive growth and prosperity while continuing to deliver high quality services.

"I think most people are more that we are delivering services in the most effective way than they do about council structures, boundaries and processes. They want us to be forward-thinking and not let structure get in the way of providing jobs, opportunity and continued vibrant communities."

Cabinet members discussed the possibility a single council could mean an even better ability to continue to deliver services while driving growth, jobs and supporting local communities.

RACHAEL McMENEMY

The meeting agreed officers carry out work to test the preferred option of a single council against alternatives. This would lead to a business case being created for both councils to also consider.

Forest Heath District Council leader, Cllr Waters, said: "Working with our communities is at the heart of what we do and will continue to be a priority. A single council could give us the opportunity to not only be a stronger unified voice to champion our area but still remain small enough to find local tailored solutions with residents, groups and parish councils with your local member at the forefront.

"Our communities want to make sure we are constantly looking to improve and transform the way we work. That we not only deliver services but help create jobs, support residents and drive the local economy. Our Cabinets have given a clear message that we now should look at this to bring real benefits for the communities we serve."

The Cabinets also recommended a steering group be made up of councillors to look at some of the issues that would need to be solved.

Initially the Cabinet of both councils will have to agree to proposals going forward which would then need to be agreed by each full council.

Corn snake slithers out from sewer to surprise of staff

RACHAEL MCMENEMY
@rach_mc94CN

STAFF at Haverhill's water recycling centre got a shock last week when they got an unexpected visitor – a snake.

The corn snake – native to central and the south-east of North America – was spotted by one of Anglian Water's technicians at an inlet screen after coming out of a sewer.

Anglian Water thinks the snake may have been flushed down a toilet or escaped from captivity and slithered into a drain.

Sarah Dobson, from Anglian Water, said: "Once our technician found the snake he put it in a box to keep it warm, but unfortunately the poor snake probably had quite a tough journey to the water recycling centre and didn't make it."

"We can't be certain how the snake made its way into the sewer, but we would always urge people who have pets they can no longer care for to take them to a rehoming centre or animal sanctuary so they can be looked after properly.

"Our teams really care about the environment and whenever they find an animal – or in this case a reptile – on one of our sites, they will always try to keep it safe and seek advice from wildlife or animal organisations."

All sorts of items have been pulled out of drains by Anglian Water's teams including mobile phones and children's toys that have accidentally been flushed down the loo.

However, the biggest problem for the water company is wet wipes. Wet wipes, fats, oils and grease cause blockages, which can ultimately flood homes and gardens.

Sarah added: "Anglian Water attends more than 34,000 sewer blockages every year – the vast majority of which are avoidable and caused by wipes, sanitary items and fats and grease from cooking. We spend around £15million every year to remove blockages from the sewers – money which goes on customer bills and would be better spent elsewhere."

Last year, Anglian Water teams were called to 122 sewer blockages in Haverhill caused by wipes, fats, oils and grease and throughout the eastern region clears a blockage every 15 minutes.

A Closer Look at ...

STAY LOCAL, SHOP LOCAL

Buying local isn't just about supporting businesses near you and helping to boost the local economy – it's also about getting the finest products around.

If you're shopping for food, for example, fresh produce from local farmers always tastes significantly better than those shipped halfway across the country and on to supermarket shelves. If you're interested in quality, buying local is a no brainer.

Here in Haverhill, supporting local butchers, bakers and greengrocers instead of taking a trip to the Tesco Superstore ensures that you will be tucking in to meals that have had a significantly shorter "field to fork" journey.

As well as ensuring a support for local farmers, this food is also going to be better for you – the less packaging it contains, the more nutrients will be inside. As well as tasting good, you'll be left feeling good by giving the local economy a helping hand.

Previous research on spending showed that for every pound spent at a small or medium sized business, 63p of it stayed within the local economy.

If you shop at a large business, only 40p stays in the local area – which doesn't help to build and maintain a thriving network of local businesses. If this wasn't enough, supporting brand new businesses helps foster brand new talent – the entrepreneurs starting out today could grow to become some of the country's most successful business owners of tomorrow.

Supporting local businesses helps build a strong local community – shop local and secure Haverhill's future growth.

Dry spell prompts water warning

cambridge-news.co.uk

DON'T WASTE IT: We've been enjoying the sun, but it does mean we need to be careful using water

AFTER eight months of below average rainfall in the East of England, Anglian Water is advising homeowners to use water wisely.

The water company is advising people to leave the sprinkler in the shed and learn to love their brown lawn.

A hosepipe ban is not expected this summer, as Anglian says water levels in reservoirs and groundwater stores are healthy for the time of year but they are asking people to conserve water where they can.

Meanwhile, some farmers are reporting as low as 10 per cent of their expected March and April rainfall, which affects crops such as wheat and sugar beet.

The region experienced 13.1 mm of rainfall in April, just 36 per cent of the monthly average.

There may be irrigation restrictions for farmers if the dry weather continues, say the National Farmer's Union (NFU), who are concerned about the impact the prolonged dry weather is having on crop development.

Regan Harris, from Anglian Water, said: "Dry periods

ANNA SAVVA

like this remind us that water is a precious commodity we often take for granted. This is why we always encourage customers to use water wisely.

"One of the reasons Anglian Water can be so confident there won't be a hosepipe ban this year is because it's invested millions to reduce leakage."

Meanwhile the NFU is working closely with the Environment Agency, public water supply companies, Defra and The Met Office to assess the situation as this spell of dry weather continues.

Brian Finnerty of NFU East Anglia said: "I don't think anyone is talking about hosepipe bans, but that's not an issue for the NFU."

"From the farming perspective, farm reservoirs are pretty full at the moment."

"Our concerns are about the impact prolonged dry weather is having on crop development, with some restrictions possible on spray irrigation in certain areas if the dry weather continues."

Anglian Water's tips for being water-wise are:

- Stay hydrated – leave a jug of tap water in the fridge to cool down rather than running the tap to get it cold.
- Finished with the paddling pool for the day? Use the water on the flower beds instead of filling a watering can with fresh tap water.
- Better still, ditch the paddling pool altogether and head to one of the fantastic beaches dotted along the East of England coastline. This year, many have been awarded Blue Flags and Sea-side Awards
- Check your local weather forecast, if it's going to rain tomorrow then don't water the plants.
- Learn to love your brown lawn – leave the sprinkler in the shed this summer, your lawn will soon bounce back and be vibrant and green again.
- Get a water butt – if you're the last person on your street without one, what are you waiting for? Water butts can save water and will give you a handy supply if you don't have an outside tap.
- If you spot a leak, call free-phone 0800 771881.

ON STAGE: Blake will be appearing at Haverhill Arts Centre
 on Sunday, June 11

FOR half term this week Haverhill Arts Centre has a show called Jack and the Beans Talk – no, that is not a misprint.

It is a fresh and funny retelling of the traditional story and an ideal gentle introduction to theatre for ages 3 – 7.

Jack lives on a small farm with his mum and very little to eat. He likes to talk to the birds, his cow and anyone who will listen. Imagine his surprise when he swops his cow for some magic beans and starts to hear a whispering in the breeze and a giant rumble in the sky.

Charming and inventive with plenty of interaction, an enormous beanstalk, bags of gold and a smelly old giant Jack and the Beans Talk is a cautionary tale about what might happen if you throw things out of the window!

From the company that brought Shoe Kangaroo and the Big Bad Boot, Billy Goats Gruff and There's A Monster in My Piano.

■ Half term cinema tomorrow includes Beauty and the Beast (12) in which a beauty learns to love a beast and then is rewarded by the beast's outides resembling his insides, and Peppa Pig: My First Cinema Experience (U) during which adult viewers might go mad but decide it is worth it to make their small charges happy.

■ If you are after more of a grown-up cinema experience go and see A Quiet Passion 12A (Monday, June 5) the biopic of the American poet Emily Dickinson directed by Terence Davies. Cynthia Nixon, who you may recognise from her turn in Sex and the City, evokes Dickinson's manners, mores and spiritual convictions and how they transcended to her poetry.

Today the arts centre has The Hippopotamus (15), the film version of Stephen Fry's book about a disgraced theatre critic/poet who investigates the mystery of miracle healings in a country house. The film is followed by a live satellite link-up to a Q&A session with Stephen Fry. The Sense of an Ending (15) stars old favourites, Jim Broadbent and the even more favourite, on the basis that she is a local Sturmer girl, Charlotte Rampling. In this adaptation of Julian Barnes's novel, retired and divorced, Tony leads a relatively quiet life until he receives an inheritance: a diary written by his best friend from his student days. As well all know nothing good ever comes of reading someone else's diary.

The arts centre has Neruda (15) on June 5. Under threat of arrest after denouncing Chile's right-wing president, Nobel Prize-winning poet and Communist Party activist Pablo Neruda is on the run, hotly pursued by conflicted Detective Peluchonneau. This highly entertaining game of cat and mouse also offers a dark critique of post-war Chilean politics and it won't surprise you to learn that it is in Spanish with English subtitles.

Bill Nighy and Gemma Atterton are in the romantic comedy drama Their Finest (12A) which follows Catrin, hired by the British Ministry of Information to bring a female perspective to wartime propaganda films.

■ To kick off the Haverhill Festival this year the arts centre has the return of comedian and professional mischief maker, Mark Thomas (June 8). In Mark's latest show, which is a work in progress, he sets out to discover what the future has in store for us and asks the audience for their predictions. At the end of the show he will place a bet and might even make a few quid. As this takes place on Election Day there should be plenty of material!

■ Psychic and medium Marcus Day takes to the stage on Friday, June 9. He says: "There's nothing spooky, weird or supernatural about a medium's work. It's simply natural law and part of our potential and experience on our amazing human journey." Marcus also says that "working as a medium helping those who have taken the journey we call death to pass on their messages to their loved ones here is one of my greatest joys."

■ The arts centre has two imaginative interpretations of old children's classics which are suitable for all the family; Peter Pan a National Theatre recorded broadcast that has been described as 'spellbinding' and 'imaginative' on Saturday, June 10, and Spinning Wheel Theatre's version of The Secret Garden on Sunday, June 11. The story of Mary, Colin and Dickon will be enchanting audiences at East Town Park, so take a blanket and a bottle of lemonade.

■ Three boys who have undoubtedly made their mothers proud, are Blake who will be Singing Songs of Stage and Screen on Sunday, June 11.

Taking inspiration from such greats as Leonard Cohen, The Beach

Boys and Andrew Lloyd Webber among many others, this promises to be a memorable evening of entertainment from the BRIT-winning harmony trio.

BMW takes a subtle route

SUBTLE is not often a word used in connection with car designers when they are trying to create a new model. Equally applicable is that old adage of why change a winning formula?

BMW's Bavarian backroom team has managed to achieve both with the latest 4 Series models.

Since the original arrived back in 2013 the replacement for the former 3 Series coupe and convertible has been a huge success.

Britain is key to the 4 Series' fortunes with sales second only to those in the USA. Germany, the car's homeland, languishes in third place.

BMW's medium sized car UK sales boss James Thompson said: "The 4 Series has been a huge success for us and interestingly three out of every four we have sold buyers have opted for the M Sport versions while the added bonus is that residuals have held up so well and better than any of its rivals.

"The key to this new, updated range is subtlety because on the surface it may not look any different but there are many changes which obviously enhances the model."

Certainly, the styling changes on the new 4 Series models are noticeable with a large air intake at the front flanked by LED headlights while the rear light cluster and back end appearance have also been tidied up.

Crucially all three models now have a lower centre of gravity thanks to a wider track (14mm extra front and 20mm at the back), plus there's a revised suspension and improved traction control capabilities, again all rather subtle but meaningful from a driver's viewpoint.

Underneath, more subtle changes have been made with the car now having stiffer suspension with better damping and an upgraded steering set-up has helped to deliver better handling and greater straight-line stability.

Inside the new 4 Series subtlety is again the order of the day with several minor new touches to the furnishings, like the surrounds for the air vents and the control panels in the doors which now feature electroplated inserts, while the air conditioning and audio controls now have chrome surrounds.

It's these small and perhaps, to some, insignificant changes that make a difference.

FIAT PANDA 4X4

1.2ltr, 2005, Turquoise, 5 Door Hatchback, 59500 mls, V6C, 12 mths mot, S/S/H, alloys, CD, C/L, E/W, PAS. Served us well for two years but no longer needed. Ideal first car, cheap to tax and run. Superbly safe in winter and poor road conditions thanks to its four wheel drive system. She also has a set of winter tyres to complement the standard tyres. They have been on for two winters (she is back on summer tyres now) and you are welcome to the winter tyres although you would have to go and collect them from the tyre shop (about 1 mile from us). She does bear the odd mark commensurate with her age and mileage.

Girton College*SCHOOLS LIAISON OFFICER

Salary: £21,605 - £25,023 per annum
Full time: 35 hours per week

Girton College is looking to appoint a Schools Liaison Officer to join the small but busy team in the College's Tutorial & Admissions Office. The role has specific duties relating to the organisation of College admissions and widening participation events and assisting in the development of good relationships with schools and Colleges in identified areas including the Midlands, as well as providing general administrative support within the team.

The successful candidate will have excellent communication, IT, organisational and administrative skills. They will be educated to degree level with an understanding of widening participation and knowledge of the structure and systems of higher education, further education and secondary schools. The role requires some travel outside of the Cambridge area and working outside of normal office hours when required. A satisfactory Standard DBS Check is necessary for this role (to be acquired on appointment).

We offer benefits commensurate with working for a large Cambridge University College.

Further information and the application form are available at www.girton.cam.ac.uk/vacancies, email personnel@girton.cam.ac.uk or telephone 01223 339891. Please quote job reference 258.

Applications will only be accepted using the College Application Form, we regret that we are unable to accept CVs for this role.

Strawberries & Cream Festival Tickets

You might think Cambridge is just a city steeped in academic history, dominated by the magnificent University colleges, made only for sunny afternoons lazily punting along the tranquil setting of the River Cam. But think again, the city is on a new path, veering away from books and gowns, and honing – whatever gets the people moving!

Against this regal and refined backdrop, has arisen the Most Unexpected of Celebrations: the Strawberries & Cream Festival!

On 17th June 2017 revellers will be entertained and enthralled by headliners: Shaggy and Wiley along with star spangled line-up, across three arenas, including: AJ Tracey, J Hus, Dimitri from Paris, Mike Skinner and Gentlemen's Dub Club. For full line-up, tickets and more visit: strawberriesandcream.com

Or to be in with a chance of winning tickets visit Plus by Wednesday June 7.

Motorsport

ALEXANDER Sims was thrilled to pick up one of the best results of his impressive career when he finished second at the Nurburgring 24 Hours.

The BMW ace played a big part in keeping his M6 GT3 car among the front-runners on the famous Nordschleife circuit and was delighted to see co-driver Nicky Catsburg bring the car home in second.

West Wrattling driver Sims, who also shared the #98 Rowe Racing car with Richard Westbrook and Markus Palttala, said: "It's pretty awesome."

"I'm so pleased. We didn't put a foot wrong the whole race, everyone did a superb job. I feel like we capitalised on every opportunity we had so the team deserved to be on the podium."

This was Sims' fourth visit to the Eifel region and, having won the Spa 24 Hours last year, he said the weekend's result ranked almost as highly as that memorable triumph.

"This is close to Spa – it's a massive race for GT3, especially for a German manufacturer," he said.

"Spa means more because it was a victory but it was pretty awesome to stand on the podium at the Nurburgring. It was a great result."

After a disappointing qualifying session left Sims' car in 21st place on the starting grid, the team made a tactical decision to pit after just three laps.

That gave the team some vital clear laps and enabled them to gain places on their rivals at the pitstops.

From then on, dry and clear conditions prevailed for the rest of the race until the final half an hour when the heavens opened.

Sims had handed over the car to Catsburg for the final stage at that point, with the team in third place.

The scramble for wet tyres that followed the onset of the rain led to a frantic finale, with Catsburg overtaking the Audi R8 LMS driven by Rene Rast on the final lap to take second place.

The Audi R8 LMS of Kelvin van der Linde was further ahead, and finished less than 30 seconds ahead of Catsburg.

"Before the weekend I hoped a place on the podium would be possible," said Sims.

"On Thursday and Friday I felt that was less likely as our pace wasn't as good as we hoped for."

"Then during the race to fight back from 21st on the grid and get second place was really good."

Sims had been due to drive for the #99 Rowe Racing car but never got to do so as a puncture early in the race meant that his efforts were focused solely on the #98 car.

Baker rises to occasion but Haverhill fall flat

Weston woe as Thriplow turn screw

CRAIG Williams, the Weston Colville captain, acknowledged his side had been totally outclassed by title-chasing Thriplow in CCA Senior League, Division One.

Although both sides were defending 100 per cent records, Weston Colville were up against it as Thriplow racked up a staggering 340 for 5, with Theo Giasemidis falling just two runs short of his century and Arpan Desai finishing unbeaten on 69.

The home side were then blown away by pace bowler Jackson Swain (4 for 5) and David Myers (3 for 2) as they tottered to 41 with none of their batsmen in double figures. Williams admitted: "It was very one-sided. They were far, far superior to us."

Adam Wright's best efforts with bat and ball could not prevent Great Chishill losing by 112 runs at Horseheath in Division Three

He took 4 for 17 and hit an unbeaten 35, but his side were removed for just 104 in response to the hosts' 216 for 9.

Horseheath's top performers were Dan Goldsmith and Robert Ketteridge, who both made half-centuries, and Ben Piper, who claimed 4 for 36.

TOM Baker's excellent all-round display went to waste as Haverhill III spiralled to defeat in Division 9W of the Marshall Hatch-ick Two Counties League.

After winning the toss and asking Stowmarket II to bat first on a wicket that had a little moisture in it, Haverhill were indebted to Baker, who finished with four wickets but, with a little luck, could have had a lot more.

Chasing 178 for 6, the thirds were confident of victory with Baker holding their innings together with a half-century. But once he fell lbw for 64 the innings subsided tamely to 130 and a 48-run defeat.

The result capped a chastening league weekend for Haverhill, whose other two teams were beaten.

The first team crashed to a six-wicket defeat against Division One high-flyers after batting first and setting a below-par total.

Only Chris Palmer (40) and Alex Archer (36) got to grips with the Elmstead attack, who took wickets regularly and restricted Haverhill to a disappointing 157 which they knocked off in just 32 overs.

Harry Harding was the sole bowler to emerge with any credit, taking 2 for 22 off 10 overs, and skipper Adam Dellar said: "I expected a difficult match but felt we needed to score at least 200 to give ourselves a chance."

"We have an interesting run of fixtures coming up and hopefully we can bounce back in a positive fashion."

Even with a strong-looking side, Haverhill II collapsed against Mistley's Aaron Rudkin in Division Three. Attempting to put the previous week's defeat behind them, Haverhill crumbled to a miserable 69 inside 27 overs against the unplayable Rudkin, who finished with 6-3-12-6.

Despite a couple of early wickets for Russ Davis, Mistley cruised to a completely unexpected eight-wicket success in the 17th over.
